Subject: RE: Reading Borough Council - Declaration

Hello Liz,

After a review of the information on your latest signed declaration form, dated 26th March 2012 detailing the use of 3 additional Zenco LaneWatch cameras under Manufacturers Certification;

We would like to remind you that as the Zenco LaneWatch equipment is part of your existing certified system, but used under manufacturers certification, so the declaration form should be considered to be part of your existing Reading Technical Construction File, (TCF).

Therefore, we acknowledge the change to your TCF is accepted a "Minor Change" as is described in "The Certification of Approved Devices" (COAD) Section 2.2.2.

This confirmation should be retained safely as it is part of your Certification record.

Regards
